Step-1

If there is a small change in cost vector c, the optimal solution x^* remains same. The reason is that a small change in c does not make any change in the basic variable.

Step-2

Hence, geometrically the optimal corner remains same where the lines meet.